THE WALTER RIDDERS gave a dance Friday night out at their very attractive place in McLean, Va., overlooking the Potomac. Preceded by a dinner that drew Senator Bill Knowland and Senator and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, the gay to-do celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary and the "unveiling" of their new swimming pool. . . . Said hostess Marie, she had measles when they were married and so many people stayed away from the wedding because she wasn't out of quarantine, she'd been longing ever since to mark the day in a big way.

She made up for the measles all right. The dancing was still going strong at 3 a.m. when yours truly no longer was. . . . A marquee sheltered tables extending out to the pool on one side of the ballroom and another terrace and another bar drew the overflow from the dining room.

Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Andrew Berding were there; Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and Mrs. Elliot Richardson (who were getting up early the next morning to go on a camping trip with Warren Unna); the John Ropes of the British Embassy, Bill and Sylvia Clark, the Philip Watts, Jane and George Wheeler, Clayton Fritchey, Jane McBane, and Herbert Klotz whose wife awaits the stork in New in New York.

The Jack Canahans had a dinner beforehand in the garden of the house they will vacate July 1 having sold same to the Gordon Grays. . . . The Bob Lees, the Rowland Evanses, Betty and Norman Paul, Tuco Paz, Peanu Weaver, the beautiful Wendy Sohier (dancing again after her knee operation), and Henry Brandon of the Sunday Times, who was just back from winning the Foreign Press Award from the University of California, were all there.
